

STORIES THAT DANCE APPLICATION

Deadline: June 1

Stories That Dance is a dance literacy program in which three classrooms in the Capital Region have the opportunity to work with the professionals at Proctors and the Northeast Ballet Company to transform their creative stories into a spectacular full scale production!

The residency includes professionals from Proctors Education Team as well as professional dancers and Artistic Director Darlene Myers of Northeast Ballet Company in the classroom for full week of residency, in addition to a dress rehearsal and two live performances at Proctors. Students will learn dance elements of creative movement, choreography, sequencing, character development, and production elements of sound design, lighting design, costume design, special effects, marketing, and show production. The final dance will be performed with the other two schools involved at the live performances of Stories That Dance at Proctors. The classroom workshops can take place in February or March at a mutually agreed upon time. Performances in 2010 will be on March 30 at 10am and 7pm.

*Please review all materials on Stories That Dance prior to submitting application:
